Finding the Right Agent

Your satisfaction and comfort in buying or selling can be greatly enhanced by finding an agent whose style matches your needs. As the Office Manager, I will gladly listen to you and help you choose among our fine professional sales agents. I invite you to call, write or e-mail.

Experience

From a background in teaching and banking, I became an agent in 1976, then managed a 'Mom & Pop' real estate office for 7 years, and joined the Windermere management team in 1992. I have made it a priority to actively pursue continuing education as well as to learn from my day-to-day interaction with agents and clients.

Vision

My mission: to lead an office which will be attentive to the goals of the clients we serve and provide the quality of service necessary to meet those goals; to establish long-term client relationships; and together with a carefully selected group of sales agents, to offer the finest in Real Estate service.

A Career in Real Estate?

As the Northwest's premier real estate company, Windermere offers the best in agent benefits, from education and Broker support to Retirement Plans and more. As Managing Broker, my philosophy is simple: always remember what it is like to be an agent. This means, providing agents with the right tools and environment, support when needed, then letting them do their jobs. You owe it to yourself to discover the possibilities at the Freeland Office of Windermere. Please call, write or e-mail.
